Russo-Finland Peace Pact Signed

The signing of the peace pact between Russia and Finland has brought hostilities to a cease between these two nations pending official ratification of the document, but it has cast a gloom over the rest of the world, most people being of the opinion that this move has decidedly strengthened the hand of Germany and that it will mean a longer and much more severe war than was expected had Russia been driven back out of Finland and the independence of the heroic little republic been maintained.

Following is the highlights of the treaty without any comment:

SOVIET RUSSIA GETS:

The entire Karelian Isthmus, including the bitterly-contested Mannerheim defence line strewn with Russian and Finnish corpses;

The wrecked but uncaptured city of Viipuri, along with Viipuri Bay and its islands;

All the shore of Lake Ladoga and some territory northeast of the lake. (Where the Finns have reported the slaying of thousands of Russian troops);

A 30-year Russian lease on the Peninsula of Ilanko, Finnish "Gibraltar" at the mouth of the Gulf of Finland, which Russia intends to convert into a military and naval base;

Various islands in the Gulf of Finland;

A broad swath of eastern Finland in the region of the Arctic Circle;

Part of the Sredni and Ryvachi peninsulas on the Arctic Ocean;

A railroad to be built this year to link Russia's White Sea ports with the Gulf of Bothnia;

Operation of a Russian airline across the Petsamo district between Russia and Norway and no restriction on passage of Russian citizens or commerce across this area;

A promise that no Finnish warplanes, warships or submarines, except small coast guard boats will operate in the Arctic Ocean.

FINLAND GETS:

Peace and a yearly rental of 8,000,000 Finnish markka (about $120,000) for Hanko.

They must negotiate a trade treaty and make a non-aggression alliance with Russia. (Russia denounced the previous non-aggression pact just before invading Finland Nov. 30.)

WELL ATTENDED INDEPENDENT MEETING

The 2nd Ward Hall was well filled Thursday evening for the Independent meeting held here, the first Independent gun of the present campaign.

Speakers were Mrs. Andrews, of Lethbridge, a member of the Divisional Board of the Lethbridge district, and a school teacher who declaimed the large school district as the cause of an increase in taxes, also the raising of the Social Service Tax with a lessening of Social services, and who condemned the present High School curriculum as discouraging the student in High School, because even at the conclusion of his High School studies he may find him or herself unable to enter either Normal or University.

Mayor D. H. Elton spoke on the limits of municipal, provincial and federal law and showed where the Dominion Government was entirely justified in declaring ultra vires some of the legislation of the present government.

LONG TOWN COUNCIL SESSION

The sleepy appearance of members of the Town Council Tuesday was not necessarily natural. They were in session until 2:30 a.m. that morning wrestling with the annual budget to see if any corners could be cut and the tax rate at least maintained where it is.

Increased enrollment at the schools was creating a greater services throughout the town expense, and this with essential demanded a large revenue from taxes. The mill rate was not set and Committee heads are going over their estimates again to see what can be done.

This with the passing of the roll occupied the time of the evening, the school budget and the Library grant request both being tabled for the meeting.

INTERSCHOLASTIC BOXING TONIGHT

The ring is all set for the Interscholastic Boxing Finals tonight and a heavy card of events is expected. Cardston is bringing a representative for every class except the heavy weight, and the pick of the mitt artists of Alberta's schools will be here to fling leather at each other.

Rayo Woolf is general Chairman and has been busy especially today arranging for the weigh in of the boxers and the hundred and one other items. As in the past the ring will be raised so that everyone can see well and reserved seats will be on each side of the ring. Ticket sale has been good and a large crowd is expected.

LOTS OF BASKETBALL COMING

Tomorrow night the Cardston and Taber teams play their final game in the Opera House for the District Championship in Basketball, the local Athletic Association sponsoring the game and providing a neutral floor.

Monday night the "Zulu Kings," grass skirt Basketball artists will play the Jacks here in what should be a first class game. These Kings are reputed to be a first and fine playing team, and we'll wager a plugged nickel that if the Jacks can get as hot Monday night as they did against the House of David that the grass skirts won't last any longer than the warm up, even if they last that long. Chief Wa-poo-oo and all the rest of the pooh poohs will think Hawaiian weather is cool to what they meet here if the Jacks turn on the steam like they did against the House of David.

On March 23rd the Teton All Stars will be here from Choteau and according to the boys who have already played this aggressive game, the fans can expect a real thriller that night. In the mean time the management is still waiting for word from the Dominion Basketball Executive respecting the Dominion playoffs, and hoping that the Jacks get a crack at this. From what can be learned from teams that have met the British Columbia teams, we have a very fine chance of a least winning from them and having a chance to go east. Local opinion thinks the Jacks are playing the best ball ever at the present time, and would like to see them in these playoffs this season. So here's hoping.

Quarterly Conference Well Attended Board Of Trade Meeting

The regular Quarterly Conference of the Taylor Stake of Zion was held last Saturday and Sunday, with the meetings on Saturday being held in Raymond, and the Sunday sessions in Magrath. Elder Roscoe Eardley of Salt Lake City, Manager of the Bishop's Central Storehouse, and one of the directing figures in the Church Welfare Work represented the General authorities at the sessions.

Saturday afternoon a five hour meeting was held in the Second Ward Church with representatives of Stake Welfare officials of the three Canadian Stakes when reports of the past year's work were made and plans laid for the present year. A great many questions were asked and answered during this session.

Saturday evening the meeting was conducted by Pres. M. T. King, and featured the presentation to two Teachers Quorums of the Stake and 10 Deacons' Quorums of Standard Quorum awards. To get one of these awards a quorum in the past must have had an average attendance during the year of 50 p.c. of its members and must have had each member fill at least one assignment. Representatives of the presidencies of the various quorums were present to accept these awards on behalf of their members. Stake Pres. T. Geo. Wood reported on the Stake Missionary work that was being done, and Elder C. E. Allred, one of the Stake Missionaries told of some of his enjoyable experiences during the past winter in his proselyting amongst the people here at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hogensen sang a duet "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Men."

Pres. Heber F. Allen, who is the representative of the Stake Presidency on the Welfare work made a report on the after-noon meeting, and then Elder Arthur Garner of the 4th Elders Quorum was called on to report the efforts made here in Raymond to organize a Welfare Store by his Quorum, and stated that under present plans this centre would be operated for the entire town of Raymond.

Mrs. E. E. Reithman and C. A. Layne sang a duet. Elder Eardley occupied the remainder of the time, and after paying tribute to the boys for the fine showing they had made in the reports and awards won, and stating the important place they held in the Church, he spoke for a few minutes of Welfare work and related visits by some of the prominent men of the nation to welfare centres and the wonderment and admiration of these men for such a wonderful scheme being carried out in such an efficient manner.

SUNDAY SESSIONS

On Sunday morning at Magrath, Heber F. Allen of the Stake Presidency conducted the meeting and after the opening exercises Elder Geo. Thompson reported on the projects of the Seventy's quorums in missionary work, and of his own experience in Stake Missionary work. Reports on their missionary labors were given by Mrs. Alice Snow and Margaret Ririe and Elder Ivan Wilde who had all recently returned from the foreign mission field.

Bishop Ira Fletcher of the Magrath 2nd Ward spoke on the connection of the Bishopric with the Stake Missionary work and how one should assist the other. Elder Eardley spoke again briefly on how the Missionary work might assist the Church Welfare plan. Directed by Orson Bridge, the Magrath Male Chorus was present at this meeting and rendered four fine numbers. Vocal solos were rendered by Leith Birch and L. B. Tanner.

ELDERS QUORUMS REORGANIZED

After the opening exercises in the afternoon, a number of changes in the Presidencies of various Elders Quorums were presented, all quorum presidents being changed except A. J. Garner of the 4th Quorum in Raymond, and his counsellors were both changed. Following the presentation of these changes, Stake Clerk I. B. Roberts presented the General Church and Stake Authorities and they were all sustained.

An instrumental trio was rendered by Mrs. A. J. Ririe and two daughters.

Pres. T. Geo. Wood gave a report on conditions throughout the Stake and expressed his pleasure at the fine record the Stake had made, being third in the Church in attendance at Sacrament meeting. He urged that the fine record be maintained and advised that all baptized children should attend the Sacramental services. He spoke of his appreciation and testimony of the Gospel and related experiences of his own family and sacrifices his mother had made for her testimony of the truth of Mormonism and how thankful he was for the faith she had shown and the opportunities his church membership had offered him for service.

The Choir sang "Ashamed of Jesus", and Elder Carl Salmor, a recently returned missionary who was not present in the morning bore his testimony.

Pres. Edw. J. Wood of the Alberta Stake was present and spoke especially to the young people of their responsibility in the Church. He quoted from "The Light that has Failed" showing the weakening of the hold of modern Christianity on the hearts of the people and said it was up to the youth to see that the light did not fail in the Latter Day Saint Church. He related a number of personal experiences in church activities and bore a fervent testimony of the truth of the work.

Elder Eardley spoke of the great power of family prayer in solving our problems, and repeated the advice of the General authorities that we provide for at least a year ahead.

Another trio by Mrs. Ririe and her daughters preceded the closing exercises.

In the evening the Stake Mutual officers presented a fine program of talks and musical numbers featuring M.I.A. work and Elder Eardley again spoke to the large crowd present.

The Magrath meetings were held in the First Ward Church and the building was crowded to the door for each of the meetings.

WEDDING BELLS

WILLIAMS — BROWN

Clifford, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Williams of Raymond, and Elsie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brown of Cardston, were united in marriage Friday of last week at the home of the bride in Cardston, in the presence of a number of relatives and friends. Pres. J. Y. Card of Cardston officiated, and following the ceremony, a sumptuous wedding supper was served. The happy young couple will

ACES AND SUNBURST DEFEATED BY JACKS

The Raymond Union Jacks have hung two more scalps on their belt over the week-end, when they defeated the Lethbridge Aces 41-59 on Saturday night and the Sunburst All Stars 55-47 on Monday night. The game Saturday night was in answer to a challenge from the Lethbridge team, who wanted a crack at the Jacks and got it. The Lethbridge team was out to win and they certainly played a hard game. They checked closely and never passed up a chance to shoot at the basket. Their desire to win made them erratic in their shooting and passing and whistles of the referees were kept busy calling out of bounds, steps, and so on.

Walton, with a keen eye led the visitors with 12 points followed by Murdock and Sherwood with 8 and 7 respectively. Donny Nilsson led the Jacks when he jogged away from his guard enough to rack up 21 points, while Nalder and Turner snared 14 and 11 respectively.

Lineup and score was as follows:

ACES: Sherwood, 7; Murdock, 8; Simmons, 2; Walton, 12; F. Sherwood, 4; Hamilton, 4; Nielsen, 2; Stokes: Westbrook; McIntosh 2. Total 41.

JACKS: Nalder, 14; Galbraith; Stone, 2; Hicken, 5; Turner 11; Nilsson 21; Dunlop, 1; Walker, 5. Total 59.

The 1st Ward M Men and the 108 Field Battery played a preliminary to this game, the M Men, or "Dead End Kids" as they are called, winning by a 35-42 score.

SUNBURST AND JACKS ROUGH AFFAIR

The Monday night game was featured by rough tactics, and showed everything but good basketball. Several arguments and disputes took place, and fans and players alike went home with a bad taste in their mouths after watching what might have been a very fine basketball game, because the Sunburst team have some very fine players on their lineup but Monday night, the rough tactics practiced and the arguments that always grow out of such a game, spoiled the evening for players and fans alike.

The players were banged and bumped around in a very ungentlemanly manner throughout the game and the Jacks showed they could take it, as well as give it; and it really was not hurt. Usually they came up a wonder that somebody was smiling, but once or twice it was a few seconds before they came up and when they did they were not smiling; they had blood in their eye and only the interference of other players saved real trouble on the floor.

The Jacks led throughout the game and finished with an eight point lead. Fouls were more frequent than has been the case for a number of games and one Sunburst player was thumbed off by the referee.

Following is the lineup and score:

Sunburst: Polinkus, 8; Sherel 11; Butcher 12; O. Butcher, 6; Lundgren, 8; Cameron, 2 Total 47.

Jacks: Nalder, 15; Galbraith 2; Stone, 2; Hicken, 14; Turner, 9; Dunlop, 4; Walker. Total 55.

The 1st Ward M Men defeated New Dayton 27-17 in the make their home on the Williams farm south of town and they have the best wishes of their many friends for a long and happy married life.

Regular Board of Trade meeting was held Wednesday night with 43 members present and in the two hour meeting held a great deal of business was taken care of.

L. L. Palmer, past Secretary, and J. W. Evans, Secretary of the Stampede Committee presented the financial statements, and L. D. King reported on the Stampede Trust Fund, all reports being accepted by the meeting.

Loren Larson reported 125 members paid up with the prospect of another 25 before the membership drive is finished. He and his committee were highly commended for their work, and in keeping with a previous agreement the Committee of the Stampede Trust Fund gave the Board of Trade a cheque for $125.00, matching dollar for dollar with the collected memberships.

O. R. Knight veteran Stampeder expressed his desire to resign from the management of the Stampede and also from the Trust Fund Committee. His resignation was accepted with regrets and on his recommendation, J. H. Walker was appointed to the Stampede Trust Fund Committee.

A general Stampede Committee of J. W. Evans, Chairman, D. V. Gilmore, Secretary, L. D. King, Jas. E. Meeks, J. H. Walker, Loren Larson and Don Merrill was appointed and will start work at once.

Mr. Knight was asked to phone the Stampede Manager's meeting and ask for July 1st for our show. A wire will also be sent.

Frank Taylor presented a plan for Home Improvement and Beautification of the town, which will be reported in more detail next week.

John Salmon reported on the Road Committee visit to Claresholm, which has already been reported, and it was announced by members of the Board that in keeping with the statement of Hon. Mr. Fallow at Claresholm, that surveying parties were already in the district going over the proposed routes and getting levels, drainage routes and so on.

It was decided to make the next meeting a combined banquet and meeting the banquet Stampede Trust Fund Commemorative in honor of Mr. Knight and the ittee and Program Committee will take charge.

Mr. Blackmore spoke on how he became interested in Social Credit and the hopes he held for the solution of our present economic and social ills through Social Credit.

Between 300 and 400 were estimated to have been in attendance.

IS IT TIME FOR A CHANGE?

A general spirit of condemnation of politics, mingled with a notion of the old party system graft, its patronage and its shady deals, seems to be spreading from east to west and from north to south. To listen to the expressions of people of all shades of political leaning, citizens feel that the time is here for a new day in politics; a day in which some of the abuses of the present system are to be taken away from the positions of representatives and cabinet ministers, and a regime of honest, business-like government inaugurated. During the past twenty years various new parties have sprung up calling themselves reformers or dissatisfied groups from the old line parties, and holding high the torch of honesty and efficiency. These have been unsuccessfully tried, with the same results; gradually in some cases rapidly in others sliding back to the patronage, graft, padding of figures and the old, old practices of handing out their cause regardless of ability favors to those who champion or anything else, in other words feeding the political heeler. Now, says Mr. John Citizen this must stop.

There is no question but what in our own province, the $2,000.00 per year indemnity is the bait which lures nearly every candidate into the election battles. For the ordinary M.L.A. sent to another department, and then back to where you started. For a month or two he leaves his own business to stay in Edmonton and listen to, and then take part to some extent in the discussions, and then usually say "Yes" if he is a party man and "No" if he is on the opposition to nine out of ten bills brought up. If he submits a proposition in the house, he has usually found it necessary to canvass other members and promise his support to their issues in trade for their interest in his. At times, government projects have been undertaken and carried out in places where the money seemed very unwisely spent, and yet somebody somewhere had to have a job, and the taxpayers paid the bill. A close examination of and inside information on some of these affairs, both Provincial and Dominion, have proven the truth of this statement without question. In such an age as we live in, it should be discontinued.

True, someone always benefits from such affairs. But, unless it is essential, unless good value is received for the expenditure, unless the expenditure is for the greatest good of the greatest number of people, it should be stamped out. We are living in an age of educated voters. The man on the street is reading and thinking for himself, and men of every party are condemning the patronage that gives contracts before a committee is formed that has contracted so that certain persons may get contracts, and so on and so on.

In seeking a solution many suggestions come out. However, we are over-governed. We might reduce to 12 or 15 the ridings in the Province, and in proportion to the population of other provinces still have sufficient representation. We could quarter the indemnity making it a maximum of $500 a year and in most cases still pay good wages to our elected men. We could do away with or amalgamate a number of cabinet posts and still have as much efficiency as has been the rule. In any of these changes, or all of them, we would eliminate some of the football nature of present day politics. And all will agree that this aspect of government needs eliminating.

Today, a matter comes up, and it is so intertwined with all departments, that one minister passes the buck to the next, and he sends it back. Then you are sent to another department, and then back to where you started. Then the treasury department becomes involved and they consider it, and then the other departments have a whirl at it, and before the red tape is finished, the baby is killed by redhandedness, is buried and forgotten about. All this red tape costs taxpayers money. For twenty years we have talked about reducing our taxes, and every year sees an increase in the various departments, more clerks for the old departments in his. At times, government projects have been undertaken we think unnecessarily to give

LOWE BROTHERS "High Standard" House Paint costs little more per gallon than "cheap" paint, BUT when you paint with "High Standard", you are assured of the utmost in durability and general service.

There is lots of "cheap" paint sold but seldom twice to the same man. One such purchase teaches an expensive lesson.

All hope that some new movement will be found that will break up this rottenness in government. Honest men still exist. Men who cannot be bought at any price, men who are efficient and men who are sincere. These are the men who should represent the people as their governing bodies. Men with appreciation of the sweat and labor expended in raising the money for taxes and men who would use judgment in seeing that these tax dollars done as much work as possible. Can government costs be reduced. Every opposition leader says they can, and yet we have been looking in vain for a long time for this to be done. If we are broad minded enough as a people to abolish the party system; if we are big enough to give credit where credit is due; if we are honest enough to shelve our hypocrisy and face facts squarely without camouflage; then we may be on the threshold of a new day. Making ourselves martyrs to a cause, when we are selfish enough to hope that the cause will be the means of solving all of our troubles without effort on our part is hypocrisy of a very deep dye, and is a thing that will deter the progress and advancement of any people.

There is a spirit of something for nothing abroad in the world today that many millions are falling for. Many succumb to the feeling that they should be spoon fed. Let us go back to the first of the Bible and when man was placed on this earth, he was put here to "eat his bread by the sweat of his brow." Inequit wisely. Again, if we seek a new day, let us face the facts. No leader is going to find a magic way to feed the multitudes while they sit around and do nothing. So long as we have the sick and unfortunate to care for, so long as we clamor for roads, bridges, public buildings, telephone homes etc., we must expect to be taxed for them. CHICK RAISING

Low egg prices and increase in feed prices are a source of worry to poultry producers and in some sections there appears to be some hesitancy in the purchase of replacement stock. No one can say what the present year holds in store for poultry producers but undoubtedly economy of production and prevention of disease and death losses will be more important than ever.

Buyers of baby chicks are fortunate in that never before have they been able to obtain as high a quality of chicks as they can today. Improvement policies sponsored by Federal and Provincial Departments of Agriculture have led to a gradual improvement of breeding stock and hatchery conditions. Therefore, it rests more than ever before with the individual producers whether or not success will attend his production efforts.

Sanitation and proper nutrition are the two keystones to success in raising chickens. Information on both of these subjects is readily available and your Experimental Station at Lethbridge can assist you with such information.

Before the baby chicks arrive everything should be in readiness for them. The brooder house should be well scrubbed, preferably with a lye solution (1 lb. of lye to 30 gallons of water). The house should be checked over to ensure that no draughts can enter and the corners should be rounded off with wire netting to prevent the chicks from crowding into the square corners. The stove itself should be tested well in advance of the arrival of the chicks and special attention should be given to the thermostat wafers to ensure that they are functioning properly. An extra thermostat water should always be kept on hand as replacement should an accident happen to the one in use.

Feed should also be on hand as the chicks will usually be ready for their first feed when they arrive. Feeds for baby chicks should be of high quality and the ration should be properly balanced to provide for rapid growth and maintenance of health. Many commercial firms are selling chick feeds and for the small producers this appears to be the most satisfactory source of feeds. For those producers who wish to mix their own feeds, enquiry to the Lethbridge Experimental Station will provide information regarding feeds and rations.

Edmonton Letter

(By T. B. Windross)

Edmonton, Mar. 12—The final phase of Alberta's election campaign is under way this week, with the scores of candidates for the legislature's 57 seats filling their official nominations on Monday.

The election on Thursday of next week will be the most critical in the province's history with Albertans themselves deciding what kind of legislature and government they are going to have for the next five years of war-time and, it is hoped, of post-war planning.

The question has boiled down, they said, to these alternatives: Whether Albertans are going to continue under the party rule of the Social Credit regime, with its promises of basic dividends and its claims of "protection" but its performance of heavily increased taxation and its isolation of Alberta from outside confidence and development, or whether Albertans are going to send non-party representatives to the legislature each man free to follow his own convictions without fear of party discipline or hope of party ballyhoo.

Although there are three dozen C. C. F. candidates in the field there is little possibility of enough of them being elected to have a majority in the legislature and the right to form a government themselves, it is acknowledged in political circles here. The chief contest is between the Social Credit machine throughout the province and the Independent candidate in each constituency.

The fact that the Independent candidate in practically all constituencies has cut deeply into Social Credit support, so obviously that Independents are expected now to sweep the south and take many of the northern seats as well, was emphasized last week by renewed attacks by Premier Abernethy and his organization against the Independent cause. A new propaganda pamphlet, entitled "The Money Power's Plan for Alberta," alleged that "financial interests" are backing the Independents and pledging them to restore full bond interest charges and "permit seizure of property." The pamphlet contradicted itself, however, by predicting that the legislature of Independents will be dismissed because it will have no united policy.

The most interesting point about the pamphlet was the note that it was published and perhaps paid for by the Social Credit League, instead of being printed at the expense of the public treasury like most of the previous propaganda of the Social Credit party. Political wiseacres considered it vicious but ineffective propaganda, because the voters in each constituency know the man whom they have nominated as Independent candidate, and know that he is working for no one and responsible to no one except the electors in his own riding.

In spite of the seriousness of the Social Credit party seeking to help itself politically by publishing false propaganda at the expense of the public treasury in "The Records Tell the Story," there was amusement last week at an explanation given for the false figures and doctored misstatements set out in that pamphlet. J. H. Unwin, Social Credit whip candidate for that seat again, stated solemnly that the falsehoods in the propaganda were put in there by a "Liberal stenographer" employed in the parliament buildings. He did not attempt to explain how the false statements escaped editing and proof-reading and then appeared again in a "revised" and reprinted issue of the pamphlet.

Figures on taxation, revenue and expenditures are juggled cleverly in both editions of the Looklet, but few electors could know it because copies of the provincial official public accounts to check them, are scarce and expensive.

The most obvious falsehood in the pamphlet, repeated in the revised edition, is the claim that the boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec have been extended to the Arctic circle, and "why not Alberta's?" A glance at the map of Canada shows that Manitoba's most northerly point is exactly the same as Alberta's, that Ontario is on a level with McMurray, Alberta, and that Quebec extends 250 miles further north than Alberta but still 275 miles south of the Arctic circle. Contrary to the pamphlet's claim, commercial deposits of iron and zinc have been discovered in the North-West Territories. Only great ignorance of Canada, or deliberate falsification with the optimistic hope of escaping detection, could have permitted such statements. But, it was commented, those statements followed the standard of truth throughout the pamphlet, a government document printed at public expense although for party political purposes.

Developments last week in the political picture included these: Social Credit organizations in several constituencies rebelled against dictation by Premier Abernethy's "advisory board" in selection of candidates; in Drumheller, Herbert Ingrey, M.L.A., in the last house quit the race; in Olds, H. J. Ash, former member, who was refused re-nomination for the party, said he'd run anyway; and in several other ridings, Social Crediters resolved not to support the board's selection.

Provincial Treasurer Solon E. Low defended members' acceptance of $2,000 indemnities for days' attendance in the legislature last month, by saying the money represented payment for a whole year's work as representatives of constituencies. R. G. Reid, former Premier and Provincial Treasurer, who is not contesting this election, pointed out that, in that case, all the members had taken five years' pay for less than four and a half years' work since 1935; that members of the cabinet and members of boards had taken double salaries during that time; the Premier to the extent of $50,000 himself.

Young women who are members of the Junior Hospital League in Edmonton, were forced to contradict, publicly, the Premier's repetition of the claim that the present government inaugurated and maintained fully the treatment and training of poliomyelitis patients; the work has been carried on since 1927, the young women said, and their organization, through public support has financed thousands of dollars' worth of equipment for treatment of paralysis and has been providing a teacher for the little patients, the government contributing just $150 a year to that cost.

Official documents showed that while the provincial engineering and manufacturing board was assisting and "encouraging" the wool factory at Magrath, the province

1. Vaccinate before seeding.
2. Two doses are required, given seven to fourteen days apart.
3. The Vaccine is available at Drug Stores, or may be obtained from Veterinarians, and some Municipal Districts may handle it.
4. If a qualified Veterinarian is not available, the Vaccine should be administered by some other person trained by a Veterinarian. Farmers wishing to do so may obtain a syringe and learn how to vaccinate their own horses.

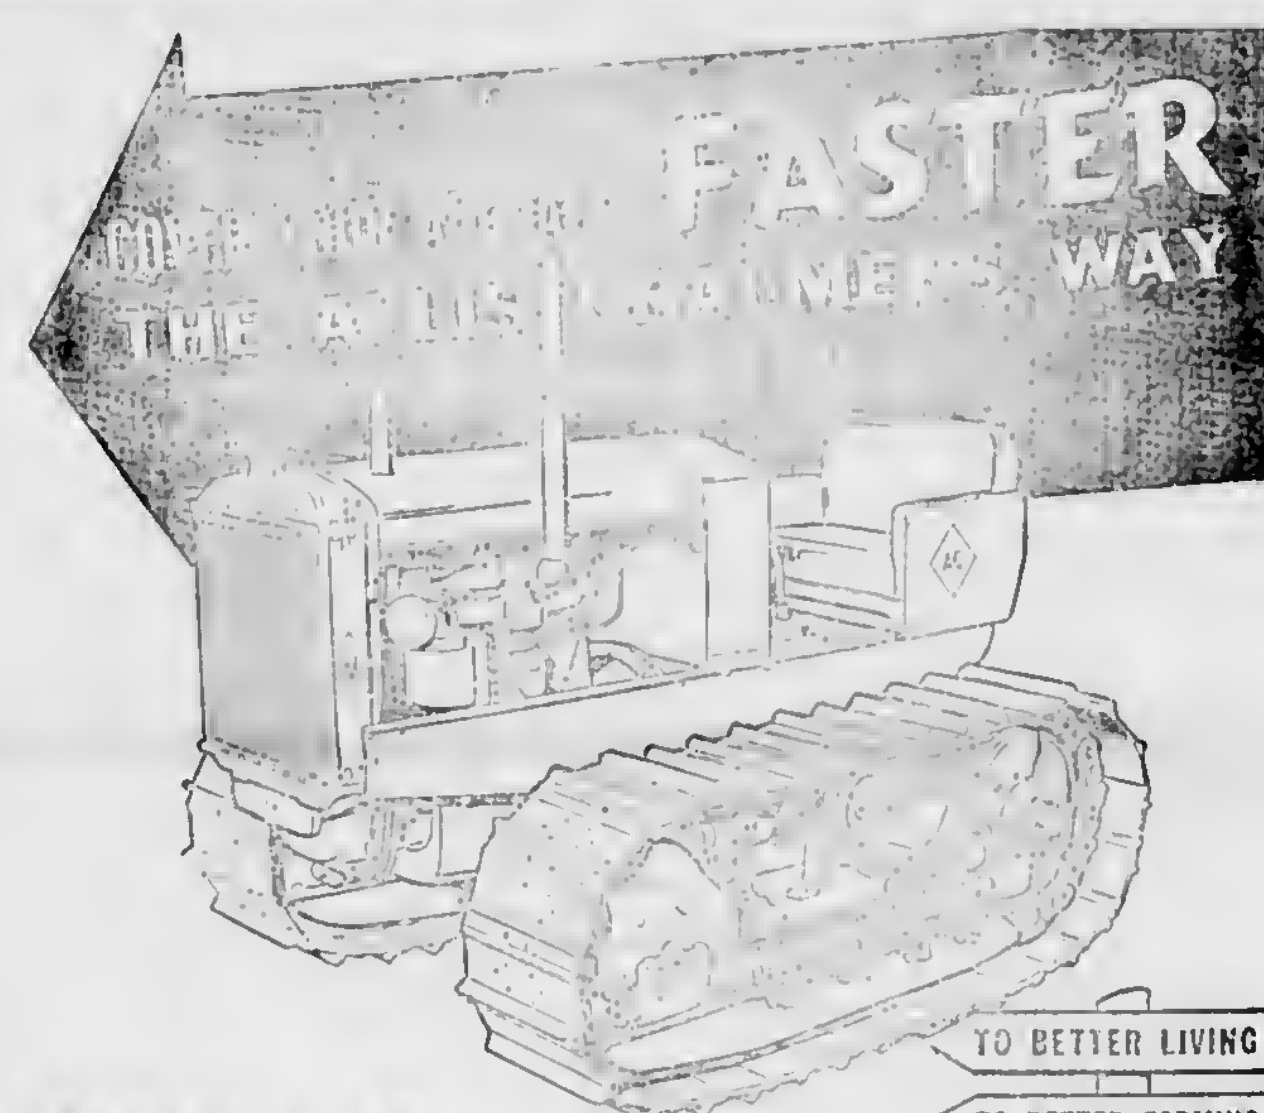

Vaccine is effective only when administered prior to the outbreak of the disease.

ial government, through that board, intervened in a contract which the factory obtained from the federal government for 5,400 blankets, the board extracted from the factory a contract which provided: The factory must buy 21,635 pounds of shoddy from the board, for $6,292; that purchase price was to bear interest at seven per cent per annum, plus a "brokerage" fee of two per cent for six months equal to four per cent per annum, (which is double the rate charged by banks in such cases); the factory must insure the shoddy with the government insurance branch, the factory must pay cash for pure wool used for the blankets; the factory must provide a bond of $5,000, with the provincial government that it will carry out its contract with the dominion; all payments owing to the factory from the dominion must be handed over to the marketing board, which will extract what is due to it from the factory, and then send on the remainder.

In Edmonton, N. B. James, former Social Credit member of the house for Acadia and now a candidate in Edmonton, denied that the party had ever promised citizens a dividend of $25 a month. A couple of days later, Premier Aberhart said that if Canada were an "economic democracy" he could issue dividends of $100 a month to every family, and the only thing standing in the way of it "is the present money monopoly held by the financial institutions."
